FRONT OFFICE

Pat Gillick

OFFICERS

HOWARD LINCOLNChairman & Chief Executive Officer

A key player in the formation of the ownership group that saved the Mariners for Seattle in 1992, Howard Lincoln was named Chairman and Chief Executive Officer on September 27, 1999. Since his arrival, the Mariners hired Pat Gillick as General Manager, re-organized the front office to streamline business operations and expanded the Major League payroll, allowing the addition of several free agents. Seattle won a club-record 91 games in his first year as CEO. In the 2001 season, Seattle won 116 games, setting a new record for the most regular-season wins by an American League team. In recognition of the Mariners' success on and off the field, Lincoln was named the Puget Sound Business Journal Executive of the Year for 2001.

Lincoln retired from his position as chairman of Nintendo of America, Inc. to devote his full efforts to the Mariners on February 14, 2000. Lincoln joined Nintendo as its senior vice president and general counsel in January 1983. In February 1994, he was elected to the board of Nintendo of America, Inc. and appointed chairman of the company.

Philanthropy plays an important role in Lincoln's life. In addition to his strong support of the Mariners Care Foundation, he serves as chairman of the Children's Hospital Corporate Leadership Council. Lincoln is also very active with the Bellevue, Washington Boys & Girls Club and the United Way of King County, Washington. Lincoln is a member of the Board of Directors of the Pacific Science Center; Corporate Council for the Arts; the Bellevue Boys & Girls Club; and the Children's Hospital Foundation.

Lincoln is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, and holds a law degree from Boalt Hall, the University of California School of Law. He and his wife, Grace, have one son, Brad, and one grandson, Ethan. They reside on Mercer Island.

CHUCK ARMSTRONGPresident & Chief Operating Officer

Chuck Armstrong was named President and Chief Operating Officer of the Seattle Mariners on June 29, 1992. Armstrong is responsible for all operations of the Mariners' franchise and works directly with CEO Howard Lincoln.

Armstrong was previously president of the Mariners from 1983 to 1989. He also served as Interim Athletic Director for the University of Washington in 1991.

Since rejoining the Mariners in 1992, Armstrong has successfully led the expansion of the front office as the Club made its move into SAFECO Field, hosted the 2001 All-Star Game and has become a business model for all of baseball. Under his leadership, the Mariners front office organization is recognized as one of baseball's best.

Born and raised in Louisville, Armstrong earned a B.S. degree in Industrial Engineering in 1964 from Purdue University where he was recognized as Outstanding Senior Man. He graduated from Stanford University Law School in 1967 and then served over three years on active duty in the U.S. Navy.

Following his tour in the Navy, Armstrong joined a major West Coast law firm in 1970. He left to become president of a leading national furniture manufacturer and importer from 1977 to 1980. From 1980 to 1983, he served as president and chief executive officer of Arnel Management, an Orange County, California, real estate investment company.

Armstrong and his wife, Susan, make their home in Medina. They have three children: daughters Dorrie and Katherine; and a son, Chuck. The Armstrongs are active in numerous civic and charitable activities.

JOHN ELLISChairman Emeritus

A life-long resident of the Seattle area, John Ellis helped lead the efforts to keep Major League Baseball in the Pacific Northwest. Upon transfer of the Mariners franchise to the new ownership group, Ellis became its first chairman and CEO, serving from June 29, 1992 until Sept. 27, 1999 when he was named Chairman Emeritus. Ellis continues as a member of the Mariners Board of Directors. During the seven full seasons of his tenure, the Mariners only finished below .500 once, while winning two Division titles and narrowly missing a third. In addition, community and fan support improved enormously during this time — attendance grew from 1,651,398 in 1992 to 3,507,975 in 2001. The greatest accomplishment under his leadership was the construction of our world-class ballpark, SAFECO Field.

In June, 1999 Ellis was unanimously elected to the MLB Executive Council. He's currently chair of its Compensation & Finance Committee. He also serves on the International and Ownership Committees. John served variously as President, CEO and Chairman of the Board of Puget Sound Power & Light Company (now Puget Sound Energy) from 1970 to his retirement in 1993. He's been the recipient of numerous awards — most recently having been named one of the U. of W.'s 100 outstanding graduates during the 20th century. He and his wife Doris have 4 children and 6 grandchildren — all Mariners fans.

BASEBALL OPERATIONS

PAT GILLICK

Executive Vice President & General Manager, Baseball Operations

For Pat Gillick, 2003 is his fourth season as the Mariners' Executive Vice President & General Manager of Baseball Operations. The Mariners advanced to the American League Championship Series in his first two seasons with the club.

In his 23-years as a GM, Pat's teams have compiled an overall mark of 1917-1704 (.529), including a 300-186 (.617) mark in Seattle. (He was 265-221/.545 in Baltimore and 1352-1297/.510 in Toronto). Pat was added the Toronto Blue Jays "Level of Excellence", the most prestigious award that the Jays bestow, in a pre-game ceremony on Aug. 8, 2002.

In 2001, the Mariners won 116 games, matching the ML record, and Gillick was named Executive of the Year by The Sporting News, Baseball America, the Boston Chapter of the BBWAA, Washington CEO Magazine and The Negro Leagues Baseball Museum (Rube Foster Legacy Award). In addition, Baseball America named him Executive of the past 20 Years.

After being named to his new position on Oct. 25, 1999, Gillick signed seven free agents, adjusted the ML coaching staff and, working with Roger Jongewaard, oversaw additions to the team's international scouting staff. The result was a (then) club-record 91-win season and a trip to the 2000 ALCS.

Gillick is recognized as one of the best executives in the game. He has a long list of awards to his credit, including being voted Canada's "Baseball Man of the Year" by the Toronto and Montreal chapters of the BBWAA in 1983 & 1991; being honored as UPI's ML Baseball "Executive of the Year" in 1985 and as the "AL Executive of the Year" in 1993. He was the co-winner (with Cito Gaston) of the "Sportsman of the Year" award in 1993 and was honored by the Harvard School of Business in the fall of 1994.

Gillick began his front office career in 1963 as Asst. Farm Director with the Houston Astros. He spent 10 years with Houston, working his way to Regional Scouting Coordinator and then Director of Scouting. He joined the New York Yankees in Sept. of 1974 as Coordinator of Player Development and Scouting, a position he kept until joining the Blue Jays on Aug. 16, 1976 as their Vice President of Player Personnel.

He was promoted to VP of Baseball Operations on Nov. 24, 1977 and named Executive VP-Baseball on Sept. 24, 1984. While in Toronto he won five AL East titles (1985, 1989, 1991-93) and back-to-back World titles in 1992 and 1993.

Gillick was named GM of the Baltimore Orioles on Nov. 27, 1995 and the Orioles advanced to the ALCS in 1996 and 1997. After leaving the Orioles at the conclusion of his three-year contract in Nov., 1998, he was named Chair of 1999 Pan Am Games baseball team steering committee in March of 1999.

Gillick was born Aug. 22, 1937 in Chico, CA, and graduated from USC in 1958 at the age of 20 with a business degree. While at USC, he was a member of the '58 National Title baseball team and a teammate of Mariners broadcaster Ron Fairly. Gillick pitched five seasons in the Orioles minor league system, reaching as high as AAA, before retiring to accept the job in Houston.

Gillick and his wife, Doris, have a daughter, Kimberley. They have residences in Seattle and Toronto.

ROGER JONGEWAARD

Vice President, Scouting & Player Development

This is Roger Jongewaard's 18th season with the Mariners and his 14th since being named Vice President of Scouting and Player Development in 1989. Jongewaard oversees the club's scouting operations, the annual June draft effort and all minor league player movement throughout the Mariners' farm system. Roger also works closely with Pat Gillick and Lee Pelekoudas on the make-up of the Major League club. The 64-year old joined the Mariners in December, 1985 as director of scouting.

In 2001, the Mariners minor league system had a combined record of 385-303 and five of the six clubs advanced to the post-season. Following the 2000 season, the Mariners were named Organization of the Year by the Topps Company. In December of 1999, Roger was recognized by the Topps Company for his distinguished service to the game of baseball. In February, 1996, Jongewaard was inducted into the R.B.I. League Hall of Fame by the Los Angeles chapter. He has been in professional baseball for 38 years, including six as a minor league catcher in the Milwaukee, Los Angeles and Cincinnati organizations (1954-59). In 1959, he played with the Seattle Rainiers. Roger was also the catcher on many of the episodes of the Home Run Derby TV series.

After spending ten years in private business, Jongewaard returned to baseball in 1969 with the California Angels. He moved on to scouting with the Texas Rangers in 1973 and the New York Mets in 1976. In 1982, the Detroit Tigers named him as a special assignment scout to general manager Bill Lajoie, a job he held until joining the Mariners four years later.

A Long Beach, CA, native, Jongewaard starred in baseball at Long Beach Poly High School and signed a professional contract with Milwaukee upon his graduation in 1954.

Jongewaard resides in Woodinville, WA, with his wife, Carol. They have five grown children: Terry; Diane; Janice; Kristin; and Don. They also have 11 grandchildren.

LEE PELEKODAS*Vice President, Baseball Administration

Now in his 24th year with the Mariners, Lee Pelekoudas was promoted to Vice President of Baseball Administration in September, 1997. He is responsible for the coordination of players contract negotiations, tracking Major League player movement, managing the club's player transactions within the administrative rules of Major League Baseball and the Major League payroll. He also works closely with Pat Gillick, Roger Jongewaard and Benny Looper on the make-up of the Major League roster.

Pelekoudas joined the Mariners in December of 1979 as the Director of Team Travel. He served in that position until his move to Director of Baseball Administration in October, 1987 and was promoted to Senior Director in April, 1995.

Pelekoudas was drafted out of Homestead (Sunnyvale, CA) High School in 1969 by the Montreal Expos in the 23rd round of the draft, but chose to attend Arizona State University where he was a three-year letterwinning pitcher (1970-72). He was a member of the 1972 Sun Devils club that went to the College World Series and posted a 64-6 record. He graduated from A.S.U. in 1973 with a degree in journalism. Pelekoudas worked in private business for four years before joining the Pacific Coast League Portland Beavers in 1978.

Pelekoudas and his wife, Terri, reside in Sammamish, WA, and have two sons: Chris and Bryan. Lee's father, Chris, was a National League umpire for 16 seasons.

BENNY LOOPER*Vice President, Player Development

Now in his 17th year with the Mariners, Benny Looper was promoted to Vice President of Player Development Feb. 11, 2002. He oversees all aspects of the Mariners minor league system and works closely with Pat Gillick, Roger Jongewaard and Lee Pelekoudas on the make-up of the ML roster.

Three of Seattle's minor league club's advanced to post-season in 2002, including the Texas League Champion San Antonio Missions. In 2001, Seattle's minor league system had a combined record of 385-303 and five of the six clubs advanced to the post-season. During the 2000 season, the minor league system posted the highest winning percentage in organized baseball. At the conclusion of the season, the Topps Company recognized the Mariners as Organization of the Year.

Looper joined the club in March, 1987 as a part-time scout. He was promoted to full-time scout in 1988 and to Midwest Scouting Supervisor (1989-91). He later advanced to National Supervisor and Cross Checker (1992) and served as National Supervisor & Special Assignment Scout (1993-97). In 1997 he was promoted to Director of Player development. He had previously scouted for Toronto.

Looper has a B.S. in Math from Southwestern Oklahoma University and a M.A. in Counseling from East Central Oklahoma University. He also has a post master certificate in School Administration. Benny played five years of minor league baseball in the St. Louis Cardinals system. Looper was head high school baseball coach for 12 years prior to becoming a full time scout.

Looper resides in Renton, WA, with his wife, Sandra. He has two adult children, Staci and Aaron, and two grandsons: Hunter and Carson. Aaron, who was selected by the Mariners in the 1997 June draft, is on the Mariners 40-man roster, and Benny's nephew, Braden, pitches for the Florida Marlins.

NAMING THE MARINERS

The nickname "Mariners" was selected by the ownership of the Seattle franchise after a "Name the Team Contest" that resulted in over 15,000 entries and over 600 different names being submitted.

When the name "Mariners" was chosen, all the entries suggesting the name were reviewed for their reasons (in 25 words or less).

The winner was Roger Szmodis of Bellevue, WA. His entry read "I've selected Mariners because of the natural association between the sea and Seattle and her people, who have been challenged and rewarded by it."

Guidelines for Selection to the Mariners' Hall of Fame

The Mariners Hall of Fame was established in 1997 to honor the great players and other individuals who make positive contributions to the history of the Mariners franchise.

- I. Eligible Candidates - To be eligible for consideration, uniformed personnel (player, manager or coach) should meet the following requirements:

- Active in a Mariners' uniform for at least five seasons;
- Ceased to be active in the Major Leagues at least two seasons preceding the selection, but may be otherwise connected with baseball.

To be eligible for consideration, non-uniformed personnel should meet the following requirements:

- Full-time employee of the Mariners for at least five seasons.
- Made significant contributions to Mariners Baseball and the franchise, either on or off the field.

- II. Method of Selection - The Board of Directors of the Baseball Club of Seattle, Inc., at the recommendation of the Chief Executive Officer and the President of the Mariners, the front office, uniformed personnel, the media and fans, shall in their sole discretion determine who will be selected on an annual basis.

- III. Criteria for Selection - The primary criterion for inclusion in the Mariners Hall of Fame shall be the on-field impact a player had while in a Mariners' uniform. The measure of a player's impact shall primarily be the statistical record created by the player.

The Mariners will consider other factors, such as:

- Statistical impact on the field while in a non-Mariners uniform, whether before or after his tenure with the Mariners;
- A player's positive impact on the Northwest community outside the game of baseball; and
- A player's positive impact in enhancing the image of the Seattle Mariners or Major League Baseball.

- IV. Time of Selection - The selection process will be conducted during the first quarter of each calendar year. If an individual is selected, it will be announced within the first two months of that regular baseball season.

- V. Retirement of uniform number - The Mariners plan to retire uniform numbers only very selectively and subject to substantially higher expectations than those applied to the Mariners' Hall of Fame. To be eligible to have one's number retired, the former Mariners should have either a) been elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame and been in a Mariner's uniform for at least five years, or b) come close to such election and have spent substantially his entire career with the Mariners. Eligibility shall not commence until after the former player has been voted on once for the National Baseball Hall of Fame, which for all practical purposes means six years after retirement. In this regard, the Mariners will take into consideration the policy of other American League clubs in retiring uniform numbers.

- VI. Amendments - The Seattle Mariners reserve the right to alter and amend these guidelines at any time.

THE RECORD... Seattle finished with a 93-69 record, third place -10.0) in the AL West...the 93 wins were the second highest total in Mariners history...it was the fourth time in club history that Seattle won 90 or more games, the third consecutive season (also: 1997)...it was the third straight year and the eighth time in 26 seasons Seattle finished above .500 (1991, 1993, 1995-97, 2000-02)...

WINNING WAYS... the Mariners have won 300 games over the past three seasons, the most in the Majors since the start of the 2000 season...the club's .617 winning percentage (300-186/.617) is also the best in the Majors in that span...

ALL ABOUT 300...by winning 300 games

(91+116+93) from 2000-2002, the Mariners became the first club since the 1986-87-88 New York Mets to reach 300 wins over three seasons and just the 16th club in history to average 100 wins per season over a three year stretch (not counting overlapping seasons)...the 1906-07-08 Cubs lead the way with 322 wins (116-107-99)...here's a look at the best three-year runs in ML history:

AL WEST CHAMPIONS, sort of...the Mariners had the best head-to-head record of any of the four teams in the AL West, finishing 2002 with a 34-24 (.586) mark vs. the West and a winning record vs. Anaheim, Oakland and Texas...Seattle was one of only six AL teams in the Majors to post a winning mark vs. the West, joining New York (17-15), Boston (18-14), Minnesota (19-17), Anaheim (30-28) and Oakland (32-26)...of the five other teams with a winning mark against the West, only Minnesota (5-4) had a winning mark against Seattle...since the three division re-alignment was installed prior to the 1994 season, the Mariners have the best record in the AL West in intra-division play, compiling a 210-147 mark...here's a look:

vs. AL West	1994-2002	2002	2001	2000	1999	1998	1997	1996	1995	1994

90+ WINS, NO POST-SEASON (1986-Current)

96	Toronto, 1987
94	Chicago, 1990
93	SEATTLE, 2002 Boston, 2002
92	Milwaukee, 1992 Kansas City, 1994
91	Milwaukee, 1987 Minnesota, 1988 Anaheim, 1989
90	New York, 1986 Minnesota, 1992 Cleveland, 2000

90 CLUB...since the advent of three division play in 1994, three AL teams have won 90 games and NOT made the playoffs...the 2002 Mariners and Red Sox joined the 2000 Cleveland Indians...in fact, in the last 17 years only 12 AL teams have won 90 or more games and not advanced to the post-season (see box)...

200 TWICE...Ichiro finished the 2002 season with 208 hits...he is just the 6th player in ML history to collect at least 200 hits in each of his first two seasons (Ichiro had 242 hits in 2001, his rookie year)...he joins Lloyd Waner (1927-28, 223/221), Johnny Frederick (1929-30, 206/206), Joe DiMaggio (1936-37, 206/215), Johnny Pesky (1942-43, 205/208) and Harvey Kuenn (1953-54, 209/201)...Waner and Pesky are the only players to accomplish the feat three-straight years...Ichiro also joins Alex Rodriguez as the only Mariners with two, 200-hit seasons...Rodriguez had 200+ hits in 1996 (215) and 1998 (213)...Bret Boone is the only other Mariners with 200 hits in a season (206 in 2001)...

THEY ALL COUNT...Seattle has played just 32 "meaningless" games in the last eight years... since the start of the 1995 season the Mariners have taken the field after being eliminated from the Division and wild-card race only 32 times in 1,279 games...here's a look:

1995: 0 games	1996: 2 games
1997: 0 games	1998: 12 games
1999: 14 games	2000: 0 games
2001: 0 games	2002: 4 games

MONTH-BY-MONTH...after posting an 18-8 April to start the 2002 season, the Mariners were remarkably consistent the rest of the year, winning between 13 and 17 games each month of the season...Seattle was 13-15 in August, the clubs first losing month since August of 2000...Seattle has posted winning records in 12 of the past 13 months dating back to Sept. 2000 and in 15 of the past 18 months over the past three seasons...here's a look at the Mariners pitching and hitting numbers in each month of the 2002 season:

A CAPSULE HISTORY OF PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL IN SEATTLE

- 1890 The first professional baseball team in Seattle was organized. The Seattle Reds played in the Class-C Pacific Northwest League.
- 1892 The Reds (first-half champions) won the P.N.L. Pennant when the Portland club declined to enter the playoffs because of financial problems.
- 1896 Club was re-named "Braves" and moved into its first stadium (Athletic Park – 14th and Yesler).
- 1903 The Pacific Coast League was formed and Seattle was a charter member. Thus, Seattle had two professional baseball teams for one season (the Braves were now in the Pacific National League and folded after one year).
- 1906-17 Seattle ended its membership in the P.C.L. and joined the Class-B Northwestern League.
- 1919 Seattle re-joined the Pacific Coast League. The club was named "Indians" and played a 225-game schedule (the extended season format continued through the 1957 P.C.L. season).
- 1937 Emil Sick bought the Seattle franchise for $115,000 and immediately changed the nickname to "Rainiers" (Sick also owned and operated the Rainier Brewing Company).
- 1938 On June 15, the Rainiers moved into the newly-built Sicks' Stadium (seating capacity of 11,500). Local sports hero Fred Hutchinson began his rookie season and posted a 25-7 record.
- 1939-41 The Rainiers won three consecutive P.C.L. pennants.
- 1955 Hutchinson returned as manager of the Rainiers and led the club to another P.C.L. crown. In addition, the first official proposition for a domed stadium in Seattle was made (bond issues for the project failed in 1960 and 1964).
- 1960 Sick sold the club to the Boston Red Sox. Seattle became the Red Sox triple-A affiliate.
- 1965-68 The California Angels purchased the club and Bob Lemon managed Seattle to its last baseball championship.
- 1967 Public approval was given for funds needed to build a domed stadium (completion was scheduled to be prior to the 1972 season).
- 1969 The Seattle Pilots came into existence and began to play in the American League. Sicks' Stadium was expanded to seat 28,500, and 677,944 fans came out to watch the 64-98 expansion team. Third baseman Tommy Harper led the junior circuit with 73 stolen bases.
- 1970 On March 31, financial difficulties forced the Pilots to move to Milwaukee (club was re-named "Brewers"). Plans to build a domed stadium were temporarily interrupted.
- 1972-76 Seattle fielded a team in the class-A Northwest League.
- 1977 On April 6, Major League Baseball returned to Seattle when the Mariners played the California Angels before a Kingdome crowd of 57,762. The Mariners starting pitcher that night was Diego Segui, a member of the 1969 Pilots.
- 1995 On October 2, Seattle won its first American League West pennant.
- 1997 On September 23, Seattle won its second American League West pennant.
- 1999 On June 27, Seattle played their final game in the Kingdome defeating Texas 5-2.
- 1999 On July 15, Seattle played their first game in SAFECO Field against the San Diego Padres, losing 3-2.
- 2000 On October 1, Seattle won the AL Wild Card.
- 2001 On September 19, Seattle won its third American League West pennant.
- 2001 On October 6, Seattle tied a ML record by recording its 116th win of the season.

HISTORY

Mike Cameron (with Pat Gillick) was honored at SAFECO Field after belting four home runs May 2, 2002 at Comiskey Park.

Baseball As America, the Hall of Fame and Museum's first-ever national exhibit tour, continues with its second year in 2003. The exhibit opened in New York City in 2002 and will visit 10 world-class museums across the country through 2005. The national tour is sponsored by Ernst & Young. In 2003, the tour will visit Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Petersburg, Fla. Additional tour stops include Washington, D.C., St. Louis, Houston and two cities yet to be announced. Just like the Hall of Fame experience in Cooperstown, Baseball As America is a national celebration of America's romance with baseball. It represents the richness of baseball as the American pastime and celebrates enduring American values - freedom, patriotism, opportunity and ingenuity. Visit the tour Web site, baseballasamerica.org, for complete details.

HOW TO FIGURE

Batting Average — Divide the total number of hits collected by a player by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A is 12-of-40 or .300.

Slugging Percentage — Divide the number of total bases by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A's 12 hits include six singles (6), one double (2), two triples (6) and three home runs (12) for a total of 26 total bases in 40 at bats and a .650 slugging percentage.

On-Base Percentage — Divide the total of hits, all bases on balls and hit by pitch by the total of at bats, all bases on balls, hit by pitch and sacrifice flies.

Earned Run Average — The total number of earned runs allowed by a pitcher is divided by the total number of innings pitched and then multiplied by nine for his per-game average. Example: Pitcher B has allowed 12 earned runs in 45 innings of work for a 2.40 ERA.

Fielding Average — The sum of putouts and assists is divided by the sum of putouts, assists and errors. Example: Player C has made 16 putouts and 24 assists and two errors. That's 40 putouts and assists divided by 42 chances for a fielding average of .952.

Magic Number — Determine the number of games yet to be played by the division leader, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

SAFECO FIELD

In 2002, the Seattle Mariners led Major League Baseball in total home attendance for the second consecutive season and established a new franchise record by drawing 3,540,482 fans. Last season was the fourth time in five years the Mariners have reached the 3 million mark.

Since the Inaugural Game on July 15, 1999, SAFECO Field has become known as a great place to watch baseball. Sweeping views of Puget Sound and the downtown Seattle skyline combine with excellent sight lines from all seats give fans an experience that is unequalled in Major League Baseball.

SAFECO Field's openness invites fans to enjoy games from many different vantage points on the Main Concourse and Upper Deck. The Bullpen Market in Center Field attracts thousands of fans with its festive atmosphere before and during games. Fans can also make a complete circle around the field without losing sight of the action on the field.

In addition to Major League Baseball games, SAFECO Field has hosted a variety of non-baseball events including the U.S. Men's National Soccer Team, Women's Gold Cup Soccer matches, 2001 Seattle Bowl college football game, dozens of high school graduation ceremonies, proms, trade shows and numerous birthday, holiday and anniversary parties. Prior to the start of the 2003 season, World Wrestling Entertainment was scheduled to bring WrestleMania XIX to SAFECO Field.

FANS COME FIRST

Fan comfort and convenience were top considerations in the design and construction of SAFECO Field. Wide concourses, leg room, excellent sight lines, seats angled toward the field, plenty of bathrooms and concession stands all combine to provide fans with a first-class experience.

THE ROOF

The ballpark's one-of-a-kind retractable roof is designed to cover but not enclose the ballpark, thus preserving an open-air environment. The structure covers nearly 9 acres, weighs 22 million pounds, and contains enough steel to build a skyscraper 55 stories tall. The three movable panels glide on 128 steel wheels powered by 96 ten horsepower electric motors. A push of a button closes or opens the roof in an average of 10-20 minutes (depending on wind and other weather conditions). The roof is self-grounded (in the event of lightning strikes) and is designed to withstand 6-7 ft. of snow and sustained winds of up to 70 mph.

SCOREBOARD SYSTEM

SAFECO Field features one of the most comprehensive scoreboard systems in Major League Baseball, including 11 electronic displays and an old-fashioned hand-operated scoreboard in left field. The main scoreboard in center field features a huge state-of-the-art LED technology video screen and matrix board for display of graphics and animation.

The out-of-town scoreboard in left field displays current inning scores of games in progress from around the Major Leagues. Two, first-of-their-kind play-by-play boards along the first and third base lines display running summaries of plays to help fans follow the action. Four auxiliary boards display player at-bat information, pitch speed and type, and additional game-in-progress information.

PLAYING FIELD

SAFECO Field's playing surface is a custom designed state-of-the-art field. It features a specialty designed drainage system and a custom blend of four kinds of Kentucky bluegrass and two kinds of perennial ryegrass to provide the optimal playing surface for the athletes, the retractable roof, and the Northwest climate. The drainage system includes layers of drainage pipe, pea gravel, sand, and grass. A spider web of one-inch plastic hose can circulate hot water under the grass to bring it out of dormancy in time for Opening Day, and also compensate for shade and low levels of direct sunlight.

CONCESSIONS AND RESTAURANTS

SAFECO Field's concession and catering services are provided by Volume Services America, one of the nation's largest providers of food, catering, merchandise and facility management services for sports, convention and entertainment venues. A variety of fresh, high-quality foods from the Northwest and around the world are available to fans at concession stands and restaurants throughout the ballpark. Offerings include the Hit It Here Café, Bullpen Pub, and AVAYA Terrace Club & Elliott Hotel Diamond Club members-only lounges. In addition, Group Suites can accommodate groups of from 40 to 320 people, and feature in-door and out-door seating, and food and beverage catering.

SPECIAL FEATURES

The ballpark offers a number of exciting areas for fans. The Bullpen Market, located behind left field, features interactive games and activities for fans, as well as the Fan Walk personalized bricks, local food vendors, an open pit barbecue, and one of the best views of the game from behind the centerfield fence.

Lookout Landing, at the end of the left field line on the Upper Deck, provides incredible views both inside and outside the ballpark.

The Outside Corner Picnic Patio, directly above the Home Plate Gate entrance, is a gathering spot that provides fans with breathtaking views over Puget Sound, as well as tables and benches for picnic lunches.

Children's Hospital Playfield, located on the Main Concourse in center field, lets kids work off excess energy on fun, baseball-theme playground equipment. Outside the Playfield is the Wizard's of the Coast/Children's Hospital Wishing Well, where fans can donate coins to benefit Pacific Northwest patients and families.

The flagship Mariners Team Store is open year-round, seven days a week, offering the world's largest selection of Mariners apparel and merchandise for men, women, and children.

Works of art by 11 artists from the Northwest are integrated into the design of the ballpark and parking garage in an ambitious $1.3 million Public Art Program. The varied installations include a sculpture of 1,000 translucent bats suspended above the grand staircase at the Home Plate Gate and a huge bronze mitt outside the Left Field Gate.

Kingdome Farewell

After 22-and-a-half years, the Seattle Mariners said farewell to the Kingdome on Sunday, June 27, 1999. A sold-out crowd of 56,530 fans watched the Mariners defeat the Texas Rangers 5-2. A post-game ceremony featured a ceremonial "final pitch" in the Kingdome, as Bob "Scrap Iron" Stinson caught a pitch tossed by Cory Segui, the grandson of Diego Segui. Segui and Stinson made up the starting battery of the Mariners inaugural game on April 6, 1977. Mariners Legends who participated in the post-game ceremony included Hall of Famer Gaylord Perry, Ruppert Jones, Alvin Davis, Julio Cruz and Harold Reynolds.

GROUND RULES

Photographer's Areas

The ball is "in play" if it hits any of the railings defining the photographer wells and bounces back onto the playing field. The vertical rails in the middle of the wells are considered in the wells and are out of play.

Ball Hitting Roof Trusses

A batted ball hitting a roof truss in fair territory shall be judged fair or foul in relation to where it lands or is touched by a fielder. If caught by a fielder, the batter is out and base runners advance at their own risk.

A batted ball hitting a roof truss in foul territory is a foul ball, regardless of where it lands or is touched by a fielder. If caught by a fielder, the batter is out and the base runners advance at their own risk.

Outfield Area

The hand-operated scoreboard in left field is part of the left field fence. A ball must clear the scoreboard (defined by yellow horizontal line) to be a home run. If a batted ball hits the cyclone fence under the scoreboard and above the padded wall, and the ball lodges behind the padded wall, it shall be ruled a ground-rule double whether it lodges behind the wall on the fly or on a bounce.

The ladder and the handle attached to and to the right of the scoreboard are beyond the padded wall. A fly ball striking either the ladder or handle shall be ruled a home run.

Dugouts

A ball must enter the dugout to be considered a dead ball.

Movement of Roof

If a game is started with the roof closed, it may be opened when, in the opinion of the home club, climactic conditions warrant such opening. However, roof may be opened only once during a game and shall commence only between innings after the umpire crew chief has been notified. Prior to opening of roof, the visiting club may challenge the opening if it feels a competitive imbalance will arise. The crew chief will make a final decision based on the merits of the challenge.

If a game is started with the roof open, it may be closed during the game. The decision to close the roof shall be made by the home club, and may be made solely for the comfort of its fans. Play will continue during roof closure if possible. However, the umpires have the right to stop play during this process if they determine it is necessary to do so.

These policies may be modified from time to time as more experience is gained with the roof and its impact on play

PEORIA SPORTS COMPLEX

The City of Peoria, the Seattle Mariners and the San Diego Padres proudly opened baseball's best spring training facility in 1994. Located 20 miles northwest of downtown Phoenix, the 145-acre Peoria Sports Complex provides separate practice facilities for the Padres and Mariners that include 6-1/2 practice fields, batting cages and a clubhouse.

Peoria Stadium, which was designed by HOK Sports Group of Kansas City, is the jewel of the $32-million complex and accommodates 11,000 fans (8,000 seats and 3,000 on lawn). Dimensions for the park are 340 ft. down each line, 385 ft. in the power alleys and 410 ft. to center.

Peoria is only the second spring training site in Mariners history, as the club trained in Tempe from 1977-92. Seattle played all road games in 1993, but used the Peoria facility for morning workouts as it was under construction.

DIRECTIONS: Take Bell Road exit off I-17 north; travel west to 83rd Avenue; travel south and enter facility at Stadium Way.

DAVE NIEHAUS has broadcast Mariners baseball since the club's inception in 1977. During his 26 seasons behind the microphone for the Mariners, he has missed only 66 games, including 21 in 1996 (17 due to medical reasons). Entering the 2003 season, he has witnessed 3,961 of the 4,027 games played by the Mariners. He is recognized as one of the best and most exciting broadcasters in the game. Niehaus threw out the Ceremonial First Pitch for the Inaugural Game at SAFECO Field (July 15, 1999). He was named one of Seattle Times' Top 10 Most Influential People of the Century and named the Entertainer of the Century by a local radio station. In 1997, Niehaus was honored by the Washington State House of Representatives for his "contributions to the quality of life in the Pacific Northwest." He was elected Sportscaster of the Year for the state of Washington in 1995 and 1996 by his contemporaries in the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association. His expressions like "My Oh My" and "It will fly away" (for home runs) have become familiar throughout the Northwest. In addition, on May 7, 2000, Dave was inducted into the Mariners Hall of Fame. Niehaus joined Mariner first baseman Alvin Davis as the only two members of the club's Hall of Fame.

Dave was born and raised in Princeton, IN, and is a graduate of Indiana University.
